

NFC EAST GOES AT IT WHILE TOP AFC TEAMS CLASH ON NATIONAL TV

The NFC East goes at it again (same as Week 2)...T.O. returns to Philly..."comeback" QBs match up...and two sets of first-round quarterbacks meet for the first time.

All this and more improbable moments are surely in store as the NFL turns to Week 5 of its schedule.

Last week, one game ended on a five-lateral, three-fumble play that reminded everybody of the Cal-Stanford game of 1982...an overtime game was decided on a 68-yard TD pass...and two games had six lead changes apiece – the most in a weekend in 20 years (see NFL Factoid below).

"It's a crazy game," says Buffalo Bills quarterback J.P. LOSMAN. "At this level, it's amazing how teams can come back so fast and so quick."

Week 5 is sure to have more amazing moments:

BUFFALO BILLS (2-2) at CHICAGO BEARS (4-0)

STORYLINE: Two first-round QBs meet for the first time.

Chicago's REX GROSSMAN (No. 22 overall in 2003) has taken the club to its first 4-0 start since 1991 and is the second-ranked passer (100.8) in the NFC. He distributed passes to six different receivers in the Bears' 37-6 win over Seattle Sunday night. "I'm really pleased with the decisions Rex is making," says Chicago offensive coordinator RON TURNER. "He's naturally aggressive, which is a huge strength for him. He's doing a good job of knowing when to be aggressive."

The Bills' J.P. LOSMAN (No. 22 overall in 2004) was even more liberal with his throws in Week 4, sending them to eight receivers. For the third time in four games, Losman was turnover-free. "His confidence is growing every game," says Buffalo WR JOSH REED. "He knows that if he throws the ball, we're going to make plays."

Losman will confront a Chicago defense – ranked fourth in the league -- that has allowed the fewest points of any team that has played four games (29) and ranks third in the NFL with 15 sacks (14 from the DL). The Bears, meanwhile, will try to stop the NFL's rushing leader, WILLIS MC GAHEE (389 yards).

Hey, Coach!: New Bills head coach DICK JAURON will face the team he led for five seasons (1999-03), taking it to a 13-3 record in 2001 and a division championship.

WASHINGTON REDSKINS (2-2) at NEW YORK GIANTS (1-2)

STORYLINE: Does Arrington have the antidote for Brunell? Will Santana feel at home?

Might be a barn-burner! This NFC-East game features the league's No. 2 (Giants) and No. 3 (Redskins) offenses, plus a good number of scenarios.

New Giants strongside LB LA VAR ARRINGTON was a six-year Redskin and an All-Star from 2001-03. He saw Washington QB MARK BRUNELL every day in practice, so he can tell his mates about the QB's tendencies. Will it do any good? In his past two games, the 36-year-old Brunell (who played under Giants head coach TOM COUGHLIN for eight years in Jacksonville) has set an NFL record for consecutive completions in a game (22), and last Sunday against the Jaguars

NFL FACTOID

MOST LEAD CHANGES IN 20 YEARS: Week 4's Indianapolis-NY Jets and Detroit-St. Louis games each saw their leads change hands six times. That was the most games in a weekend with that many changes since 1986 (Week 3, Miami-NY Jets and Atlanta-Dallas).

led Washington to an overtime victory with 18-for-30 passing for 329 yards and three touchdowns.

His final TD was a 68-yarder in OT to SANTANA MOSS, the receiver's third score of the game. It was the third career three-TD game for Moss (his brother SINORICE is a Giants rookie WR). The first two came against the Giants, last year and in 2003 at Giants Stadium when he played for the Jets. "He's the best after the catch I've played with," says Brunell.

Giants RB TIKI BARBER will pit his 98.5-yard average in New York's last six games with Washington against the Redskins' fifth-ranked NFL rush defense. Meanwhile, Redskins RB CLINTON PORTIS leads the NFC in rush TDs (4).

DALLAS COWBOYS (2-1) at PHILADELPHIA EAGLES (3-1)

STORYLINE: Hello T.O.!

No. 81 – WR TERRELL OWENS – returns for the first time to the city in which he starred for the Eagles and helped them to Super Bowl XXXIX. And will "The Linc" be rocking!

"Yeah, it's going to be a big game, that's for sure," says Cowboys TE JASON WITTEN. "We've heard about this one since the schedule came out."

But all memories aside, this is a division battle, which comes packed with even more tension. The Eagles had swept four of the past five season series (split in 2003) before the Cowboys took both meetings last year (33-10 and 21-20 in Philly on a ROY WILLIAMS INT-return TD as the Cowboys overcame a 13-point deficit in the final four minutes).

All eyes will be on Owens, but safeties BRIAN DAWKINS and MICHAEL LEWIS also will have to be wary of WR TERRY GLENN (two TD catches in Week 4). "When Owens is out there, Glenn gets single coverage, and you can't cover him one-on-one," says Dallas QB DREW BLEDSOE.

The Eagles come off an impressive 31-9 MNF victory over Green Bay – their third '06 win by a double-digit margin -- in which backup WR GREG LEWIS had two second-half TD catches.

PITTSBURGH STEELERS (1-2) at SAN DIEGO CHARGERS (2-1) (Sunday, NBC, 8:15 PM ET)

STORYLINE: Roethlisberger vs. Rivers.

Two 2004 first-round quarterbacks...both 6-5...first meeting...each seeking to bounce back after losses. The Steelers' BEN ROETHLISBERGER (No. 11 overall in '04) last year became the youngest quarterback (23) in history to win a Super Bowl. San Diego's PHILIP RIVERS (No. 4) is in his first year as a starter. Yet so far, Rivers ranks above Roethlisberger in almost every passing category.

These two won't be physically going at it, but LA DAINIAN TOMLINSON and the Steelers' rush defense will, and that matchup could be the key to the game. Tomlinson – the Chargers' all-time leading rusher (7,661 yards) -- already has 300 yards (and 11 catches) in San Diego's first three games. It is critical, say members of Pittsburgh's fourth-ranked NFL rushing defense, to stop "LT."

"He is fast, strong, has a low center of gravity," says Steelers LB JAMES FARRIOR. "He can see anywhere on the field. The key is to stop the run. They don't want to put too much pressure on the quarterback because he is still learning."

A year ago (10/10) on a Monday night in San Diego, the teams met, with Tomlinson accounting for 130 total yards (62 rushing, 68 receiving) in a game with three lead changes before Pittsburgh took it 24-22 on a 40-yard JEFF REED kick.

BALTIMORE RAVENS (4-0) at DENVER BRONCOS (2-1) (Monday, ESPN, 8:30 PM ET)

STORYLINE: They can come back if they have to.

The two QBs in this one – Baltimore's STEVE MC NAIR and Denver's JAKE PLUMMER – are known for their comeback game-winning abilities. Plummer has 22 such games in his career, and this year, new Raven McNair has led the team to its first-ever 4-0 start with comeback victories in the past two games. "If we don't make enough plays to win early, we can make plays to win the game late," says Ravens LB RAY LEWIS. "That's why we brought Steve McNair here."

The Broncos also have a new guy who might worry Baltimore's fourth-ranked NFL pass defense – former Packers WR JAVON WALKER. In Week 2, his 24-yard overtime catch set up a winning field goal. In Week 3 (the Broncs had a bye last week), Walker mixed in TD catches of 32 and 83 yards in his 130-yard production against New England. He gained all 130 yards on third-down receptions. "That was a coup when we got him," says Broncos S JOHN LYNCH.

Walker and the Broncos have to be wary when they go to the air, though. Baltimore ties St. Louis for the most interceptions (8) in the NFL.
